Basic HTML

Projects

Project Name: School Management System

Technology: Python, Basic SQL

Team Size: 3 members

The school management system will manage all the work in any school in particular order so that the time requirement and complexity of the system will be reduced, at first it will focus on student related information. As a student gets the admission in the school system will start managing the details regarding the students. It will manage the fee details.

I took part in both frontend and backend development section of the project.
